

Editorial for Summer Edition of the SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA 2016

Dear readers and friends,

let me introduce the second issue of the fourth volume of SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA, an international scientific online journal for the study of legal issues in the interdisciplinary context.

The journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA is issued under the auspices of the Faculty of Law of the Trnava University in Trnava, Slovakia, and it thematically focuses on social relevant interdisciplinary relations on the issues of public law and private law at the national, transnational and international levels, represented first of all by following branches of law – legal history, theory of law, roman law, canon law, constitutional law, human rights & fundamental freedoms, international law, European law, civil law, economic law & trade law, labour law, social security law, administrative law, environmental law, financial law, intellectual property law, criminal law and criminology, connected to the key areas of social science disciplines in the broadest understanding, those represent above all international relations, public policy, public administration, psychology, sociology, demography, management and marketing, international economic relations, world economy, transnational economies and national economies.

The journal is issued in an electronic on-line version four times a year, regularly on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st, and it offers a platform for publication of contributions in the form of separate papers and scientific studies as well as scientific studies in cycles, essays on current social topics or events, reviews on publications related to the main orientation of the journal and also information or reports connected with the inherent mission of the journal.

The journal accepts and publishes exclusively only original, hitherto unpublished contributions in the Slovak language, Czech language, English language, German language, Russian language, French language, Spanish language, Polish language, Serbian language, Slovenian language, Chinese language, Japanese language, Persian language Dari and by mutual agreement in relation to current possibilities of the editorial office also in other world languages.

The website of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers the reading public information in the common graphical user interface as well as in the blind-friendly interface designed for visually handicapped readers, both parallel in the Slovak, English as well as German languages. In all those languages the journal's editorial office provides also feedback communication through its own e-mail address. At the same time the website of the journal offers readers due to the use of dynamic responsive web design accession and browsing by using any equipment that allows transmission of information via the global Internet network.

The current, second issue of the fourth volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers a total of six separate scientific studies as well as one scientific essay in three different languages – in the English, Russian, and Slovak languages. The initial study presents very broadly, systematically, and clearly the issues concerning the application of new technologies in the field of labour law and related legal protection of employees in the Slovak Republic. The following study offers readers consistently clarified and exhaustively elucidated interpretation of the institute of tax obligation as a category of tax law according to the Ukrainian legal order. The third study brings explanation, clarification as well as very precise analysis of the term of “Ius Puniendi” and of its sources in the era of the European integration, where a special attention is given to selected issues of their application in the Republic of Poland. The fourth study accurately analyses and thoroughly clarifies questions relating to the issue of tax license of legal person under the law of the Slovak Republic. The following study carefully clarifies, analyses, and evaluates the current legal state and key results connected with the questions of the MiFID II application and related issues arising from the implementation of the new regulatory package in the field of international finance instruments. The final study very precisely analyses and deeply evaluates the websites' accessibility of the central public administration bodies in the Prešov region from the view of applying the skip navigation mechanism. Scientific essay included at the end of the current issue of the journal discusses the up-to-date key issues of protection of employees against dismissal during the transfer of the employer in terms of the European labour law.

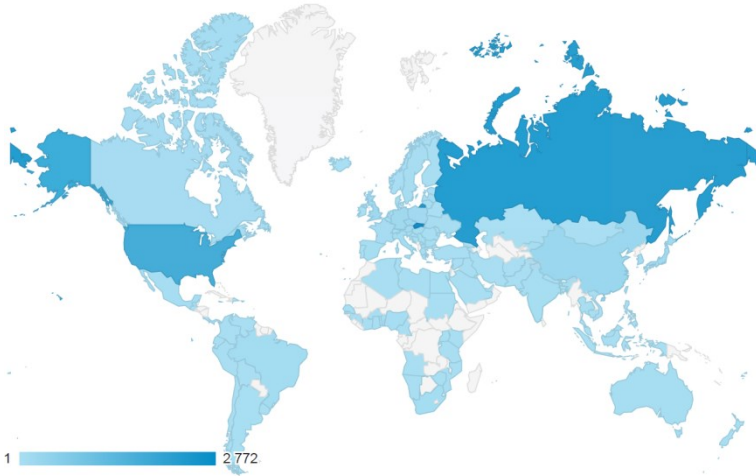

In relation to the release of the second issue of the fourth volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA we are pleased to inform all its readers, contributors as well as fans that the journal has been successfully registered in the international scientific databases ERIH PLUS and IndexCopernicus International and applied for registration in other international scientific databases. At the same time we would like to inform that till the date of the new issue, the journal's websites had recorded a total of 120 countries of visits (in alphabetical order):

On the occasion of launching the second issue of the fourth volume of the journal I would be delighted to sincerely thank all contributors who contribute actively in it and share with the readers their knowledge, experience or extraordinary views on legal issues in their broadest social context as well as the top management of the Faculty of Law of the Trnava University in Trnava, all friends, colleagues, employees of the Faculty of Law as well as rector's administration at the Trnava University in Trnava for their support and suggestive advices and, finally, also members of journal's editorial board and editorial team.

I believe that the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA will provide a stimulating and inspirational platform for communication both on the professional level and the level of the civic society, as well as for scientific and society-wide beneficial solutions to current legal issues in context of their broadest interdisciplinary social relations, in like manner at national, regional and international levels.

On behalf of the entire editorial board and editorial office of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA

Yours faithfully,

Jana Koprlová
