

Editorial for Spring Edition of the SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA 2018

Dear readers and friends,

let me introduce the first issue of the sixth volume of SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA, an international scientific online journal for the study of legal issues in the interdisciplinary context.

The journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA is issued under the auspices of the Faculty of Law of the Trnava University in Trnava, Slovakia, and it thematically focuses mainly on social relevant interdisciplinary relations on the issues of public law and private law at the national, transnational and international levels, while accepting and publishing exclusively original, hitherto unpublished contributions.

The journal is issued in an electronic on-line version four times a year, regularly on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th, and December 31st, and it offers a platform for publication of contributions in the form of separate papers and scientific studies as well as scientific studies in cycles, essays on current social topics or events, reviews on publications related to the main orientation of the journal, and also information or reports connected with the inherent mission of the journal.

The website of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers the reading public information in the common graphical user interface as well as in the blind-friendly interface designed for visually handicapped readers, both parallel in the Slovak, English as well as German languages. In all those languages the journal's editorial office provides also feedback communication through its own e-mail address. At the same time the website of the journal offers readers due to the use of dynamic responsive web design accession and browsing by using any equipment that allows transmission of information via the global Internet network.

The current, first issue of the sixth volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers a total of eight separate scientific studies, one scientific essay as well as one information in four different languages – in the English, German, Czech and Slovak languages. Within the section “Studies” the first study offers readers a very complex and detailed view of the basic key features of legal regulations of tax incentives for small businesses in post-socialist countries. The following study thoroughly analyses, streamlines and exemplarily explains the issues of the status of agreement on deductions from salaries and other incomes in the enforcement law of the Czech Republic. The third study concentrates on a very detailed systematic clarification as well as in-depth analysis of the questions of the crime of theft from the point of view of the Slovak judicial practice. The next study offers readers systematic and thorough qualifying and clarifying of the key questions of the labour law regulation of the employee control and the employee monitoring in the Czech Republic. The fifth study presents, streamlines, analyses in detail and clarifies the issues of the illegal employment in the Slovak Republic in the context of the current changes to the legislation concerning the employer's registration duty. The following study very precisely analyses, deeply explains and compares the institutes of securing the rights and obligations in the Slovak labour law. The seventh study offers the reader an extensive in-depth commentary on the questions of the formation of marriage according to the Slovak legal order. The final, eighth study deals with a precise analysis and clarification of the institute of the culpability in criminal participation from the point of view of the Slovak criminal law. The following scientific essay offered in the new issue is interdisciplinarily devoted to the issues of the so-called "voluntary tax compliance". The final section "Information" brings a summarising report on the international scientific conference entitled "Labour Law in the Digital Age", held on November 6th, 2017.

In relation to the release of the first issue of the sixth volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA we are pleased to inform all its readers, contributors as well as fans that the journal has been successfully registered in the international scientific databases ERIH PLUS and IndexCopernicus International and applied for registration in other international scientific databases. At the same time we would like to inform that till the date of the new issue, the journal's websites had recorded a total of 120 countries of visits (in alphabetical order):
