

Editorial for Autumn Edition of the SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA 2018

Dear readers and friends,

let me introduce the third issue of the sixth volume of SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA, an international scientific online journal for the study of legal issues in the interdisciplinary context.

The journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA is issued under the auspices of the Faculty of Law of the Trnava University in Trnava, Slovakia, and it thematically focuses mainly on socially relevant interdisciplinary relations connected with issues of public law and private law at the national, transnational and international levels, while accepting and publishing exclusively original, hitherto unpublished contributions.

The journal is issued in an electronic on-line version four times a year, regularly on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st, and it offers a platform for publication of contributions in the form of separate papers and scientific studies as well as scientific studies in cycles, essays on current social topics or events, reviews on publications related to the main orientation of the journal and also information or reports connected with the inherent mission of the journal.

The website of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers the reading public information in the common graphical user interface as well as in the blind-friendly interface designed for visually handicapped readers, both parallel in the Slovak as well as English languages. In both languages the journal's editorial office provides also feedback communication through its own e-mail address. At the same time, the website of the journal offers readers due to the use of dynamic responsive web design accession and browsing by using any equipment that allows transmission of information via the global Internet network.

The current, third issue of the sixth volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers a total of six separate scientific studies. The very first study offers readers a complex and detailed analytical view of the question whether, in the context of the current situation and in the case of the right to asylum, it is possible to assume rather the collective enforcement of individual right or it can be regarded as a collective right. The following study thoroughly analyses, streamlines and exemplarily explains the issues of position of the rules of the European Union law in the framework of the constitutional law and other legal regulation of the Slovak Republic. The third study concentrates on a very detailed systematic clarification as well as in-depth analysis of the questions of the Information Bidding System for Old-age Pension Savings within the Slovak social security law. The next study offers readers systematic and thorough qualifying and clarifying of the selected key legal questions related to the institute of representation in consumer disputes according to the Slovak legal order. The fifth study presents, streamlines, analyses in detail and clarifies the issues of the international legal aspects and changes in perception of the institute of the State sovereignty in interaction with the possibility of disturbing it. The final study very precisely analyses and fully explains the efforts made and the fundamental achievements reached by the international community on the path to a global agreement on climate protection.

In relation to the release of the third issue of the sixth volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA we are pleased to inform all its readers, contributors as well as fans that the journal has been successfully registered in the international scientific databases ERIH PLUS and IndexCopernicus International and applied for registration in other international scientific databases. At the same time, we would like to inform that till the date of the new issue, the journal's websites had recorded a total of 123 countries of visits (in alphabetical order):
