

Editorial for Autumn Edition of the SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA 2021

Dear readers and friends,

let me introduce the third issue of the ninth volume of SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA, an international scientific online journal for the study of legal issues in the interdisciplinary context.

The journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA is issued under the auspices of the Faculty of Law of the Trnava University in Trnava, Slovakia, and it thematically focuses mainly on socially relevant interdisciplinary relations connected with issues of public law and private law at the national, transnational and international levels, while accepting and publishing exclusively original, hitherto unpublished contributions.

The journal is issued in an electronic on-line version four times a year, regularly on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st, and it offers a platform for publication of contributions in the form of separate papers and scientific studies as well as scientific studies in cycles, essays on current social topics or events, reviews on publications related to the main orientation of the journal and also information or reports connected with the inherent mission of the journal.

The website of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers the reading public information in the common graphical user interface as well as in the blind-friendly interface designed for visually handicapped readers, both parallel in the Slovak as well as English languages. In both languages the journal's editorial office provides also feedback communication through its own e-mail address. At the same time, the website of the journal offers readers due to the use of dynamic responsive web design accession and browsing by using any equipment that allows transmission of information via the global Internet network.

The current, third issue of the ninth volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers a total of five separate scientific papers – three scientific studies and two scientific essays devoted to socially and legally extremely up to date topics, written in three different languages – in the English, Czech and Slovak languages. Within the section “Studies”, the very first study brings readers a very complex and detailed view of the key issues in the field of improving the legal regulation of the assessment of ability to work, enshrined in the Czech legal system. The following study thoroughly analyses, streamlines and exemplarily explains the issues of suicide and assisted suicide in the criminal law and the canon law, with a specific focus laid on the Slovak legislation. The third study concentrates on a very detailed systematic clarification as well as in-depth analysis and comprehensive comparison of selected, particularly pressing problems of the current regulation of the representation of minors by selected entities. Within the section “Essays”, the very first essay presents, streamlines, analyses in detail and clarifies the possible challenges to the insolvency law in the 21st Century. Finally, the second essay and, at the same time, the last scientific paper in the current issue offers an extremely interesting and interdisciplinary, especially legal and economic interpretation of the Theory of Justice by the Nobel Prize Winner for the economy Amartya Sen from the view of prevention and combating injustices that can be avoided, while focusing on one of the key countries in the world – Brazil.

In relation to the release of the third issue of the ninth volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA we are pleased to inform all its readers, contributors as well as fans that the journal has been registered in the international scientific databases Crossref, ERIH PLUS and Index Copernicus International and applied for registration in other international scientific databases. At the same time, we would like to inform that till the date of the new issue, the journal’s websites had recorded a total of 144 countries of visits (in alphabetical order):
