

Editorial for Spring Edition of the SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA 2023

Dear readers and friends,

let me introduce the first issue of the eleventh volume of SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA, an international scientific online journal for the study of legal issues in the interdisciplinary context.

The journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA is issued under the auspices of the Faculty of Law of the Trnava University in Trnava, Slovakia, and it thematically focuses mainly on socially relevant interdisciplinary relations connected with issues of public law and private law at the national, transnational and international levels, while accepting and publishing exclusively original, hitherto unpublished contributions.

The journal is issued in an electronic on-line version four times a year, regularly on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st, and it offers a platform for publication of contributions in the form of separate papers and scientific studies as well as scientific studies in cycles, essays on current social topics or events, reviews on publications related to the main orientation of the journal and also information or reports connected with the inherent mission of the journal.

The website of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers the reading public information in the common graphical user interface as well as in the blind-friendly interface designed for visually handicapped readers, both parallel in the Slovak as well as English languages. In both languages the journal's editorial office provides also feedback communication through its own e-mail address. At the same time, the website of the journal offers readers due to the use of dynamic responsive web design accession and browsing by using any equipment that allows transmission of information via the global Internet network.

The current, first issue of the eleventh volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA offers a total of four separate scientific studies as well as one notable scientific publication written in three different languages – in the English, Czech and Slovak languages. The very first study offers readers a very complex and detailed view of the key and extremely topical issues of the still unresolved Polish-German dispute regarding reparations related to the period of the Second World War. The following study thoroughly analyses, clarifies and exemplarily explains the issue of the criminological perspective on economic crimes in specific cases of money laundering and tax evasion, applying the experience of the Romanian criminal law. The third study concentrates on a very detailed systematic clarification as well as in-depth analysis and comprehensive synthesis of the benefits and impacts of the current Czech legislation on the institute of liability of the holder of a public office in an independent body for an unlawful decision, using the example of the Czech Television Council. The final study presents systematic and thorough qualifying and clarifying of the key questions related to the issue of whistleblower protection in Poland, based on the analysis of the situation of the Polish officers and professional soldiers. The section "Reviews", placed at the end of the current issue, offers an interesting review of a new unique Czech scientific collective monograph dedicated to administrative justice, which will serve equally well not only the Czech, but also the Slovak broad professional and lay public.

In relation to the release of the first issue of the eleventh volume of the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA we are pleased to inform all its readers, contributors as well as fans that the journal has been registered in the international scientific databases Crossref, ERIH PLUS and Index Copernicus International and applied for registration in other international scientific databases. At the same time, we would like to inform that till the date of the new issue, the journal's websites had recorded a total of 152 countries of visits (in alphabetical order):

On the occasion of launching the first issue of the eleventh volume of the journal, I would be delighted to sincerely thank all the contributors who have contributed in it actively and have shared with the readers their knowledge, experience or extraordinary views on legal issues as well as the top management of the Faculty of Law of the Trnava University.

ty in Trnava, all friends, colleagues, employees of the Faculty of Law, the rector's administration at the Trnava University in Trnava for all support and suggestive advices and, finally, also the members of journal's editorial board and the editorial team.

I believe that the journal SOCIETAS ET IURISPRUDENTIA provides a stimulating and inspirational platform for communication both on the professional level and the level of the civic society as well as for scientific and society-wide beneficial solutions to current legal issues in context of their broadest interdisciplinary social relations, in like manner at national, regional and international levels.
